

Eric Schippers

Eric Schippers is Senior Vice President of Public Affairs & Government Relations for Penn National Gaming, Inc., the nation's largest publicly traded regional gaming and racing company.

Mr. Schippers is responsible for Penn National Gaming's community affairs, government relations, corporate communications and media relations. In addition, Mr. Schippers serves as spokesperson for the company.

Throughout his career, Mr. Schippers has worked extensively on issues before the U.S. Congress and state legislatures, and he has frequently provided commentary on legislative and legal matters, appearing on MSNBC's "Buchanan and Press," CNN's "Inside Politics with Judy Woodruff," FOX News Channel's "FOX & Friends," C-SPAN's "Washington Journal," as well as National Public Radio's "All Things Considered." He has also been a regular guest on a number of nationally syndicated radio shows.

In addition, Mr. Schippers has been a regular contributor of op-eds and articles to major news publications and scholarly journals, including The Wall Street Journal and The National Law Journal, and has appeared in major news outlets across the country, including the Los Angeles Times, The Washington Post, Atlanta Journal-Constitution, and ABC News.com, among others.

Mr. Schippers also has been a frequent lecturer and panelist at various seminars and universities. In 2002, he authored "Free Speech in a Commercial World: The Nike Paradox," a constitutional primer on the U.S. Supreme Court case Nike v. Kasky.

Prior to joining Penn National, Mr. Schippers worked for Burson-Marsteller, one of the world's largest international public relations firms, representing numerous Fortune 500 clients in the areas of media relations, public affairs, crisis communications and constituency relations.

Mr. Schippers received his Bachelor of Arts degree in political science and international public relations from the George Washington University in Washington, D.C. He currently resides in Wyomissing, Pennsylvania with his wife and three children.