

Jason Fulvi, CDME

Jason Fulvi is Executive Vice President of VisitPittsburgh, the official tourism promotion agency for Pittsburgh and Allegheny County. Jason oversees the Convention Sales, Convention Services and Partnership Development departments, in addition to assisting VisitPittsburgh's President and CEO. Previously, he was Executive Director of Convention Sales, where he managed the team responsible for booking meetings and conventions for the Pittsburgh area.

Jason's background includes more than 26 years of experience in the hospitality industry. Prior to joining VisitPittsburgh in 2002, he was Assistant Director of Sales for the Hilton Pittsburgh. In addition, he previously served as Director of Sales for the Holiday Inn Pittsburgh International Airport, Account Executive with TravelOne, Account Executive with Carlson Wagonlit Travel, Sales Manager at the William Penn Hotel and held several positions at the Westin Convention Center Hotel.

Jason has served as Vice-Chairman and Chairman of Destination Marketing Association International's Sales & Marketing Committee. He currently is a member of the Industry Partner Alliance Committee for the American Society of Association Executives and is co-chair of its Education Committee.

Jason received his Certified Destination Management Executive (CDME) certification from DMAI in 2007. CDME is an advanced educational program for veteran and career-minded convention and visitors bureau executives interested in senior-level professional development courses. CDME certification is based on professional experience and academic examination and recognized by the convention and visitors bureau industry as its highest educational achievement.

Jason is a Pittsburgh area native and graduate of Indiana University of Pennsylvania with a degree in Hotel, Restaurant and Institutional Management. He currently is a member of the university's Hotel Restaurant and Institutional Management Alumni Advisory Council.

From a civic standpoint, Jason is active with the Greater Pittsburgh Community Food Bank by sitting on the Food and Nutrition Committee and organizing group volunteer activities with the local hospitality community.

In his free time, Jason enjoys traveling, playing golf and socializing with new people from all walks of life and industries.
